WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Leaders of the congressional bloc fighting the military conscription bill are planning to challenge the administration to submit the controversial issue to a popular referendum in the November elections.

This was learned today from an authoritative source as many Democrats gave strong support to a popular compromise amendment which would defer actual conscription until Jan. 1, by giving voluntary enlistment a trial until the first of the year.

New Amendment
The so-called compromise amendment is sponsored by Sen. Maloney (D Conn). It would authorize the president to set up machinery for conscription, but would direct him to withhold the actual draft until the first of the year.

Sen. Wheeler (D Mont.), and other opposition leaders assailed the Maloney proposal as an attempt "to

PA NEW OBSERVES

Now, as never before, Lawrence county, may boast of good roads, both on main highways and back country sections, due to the present state campaign of road improvement.

Familiar sights along highways and back roads are huge wagon-loads of golden hay, recently harvested and dried in the warm sunshine to be taken to the home barn for the winter's fodder. The freshly cut hay certainly makes a lovely sight, gleaming in the sunshine of the fields.

Corn roasts are again becoming popular on the social calendar, featuring many a gathering due to the excellent crop of fresh corn right now.

Noticed on the Ellwood-New Castle road was a car on Friday afternoon with its regular Pennsylvania motor vehicle license on the left hand side and, also on the right hand side, was another license, twice as big of Pennsylvania, only from the year 1916. The background was bright orange and the letters black, with the number 223495 on the side.

Those large street rollers of the city certainly make one grand noise when they drive down a cement thoroughfare. One, driving down East Washington street Friday afternoon, made enough vibrations on the road to shake the window panes in all the homes along the street.

This is the time of year when little boys get up a party and "go camping" overnight. Pa New observed a group of four coming along the Harlansburg road, with all their equipment Friday, even to their home-made tent and frying pan. One lucky youngster was carrying a small fish, very proudly.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 5 p. m. Friday are as follows:
Maximum temperature, 90.
Minimum temperature, 59.
No precipitation.
River stage, 45 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:
Maximum temperature, 86.
Minimum temperature, 72.

CAN ENROLL IN OWN COMMUNITY

Special registration dates for the accommodation of voters who are unable to come to the permanent registration office in the court house annex have been set by the county commissioners. This is in addition to the regular schedule at the office at the court house, where voters may register anytime between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 4 p. m.

In New Castle, the commissioners have fixed Friday and Saturday, September 20 and 21, for this purpose and the hours will be from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. and 7 to 10 p. m. This registration will be taken at the office of Alderman James C. Brice, 36 North Jefferson street, where voters will have the opportunity of registering, changing party enrollment or changing their address.

New Wilmington voters will be accommodated at the municipal building on Wednesday, September 4, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. and 7 to 10 p. m., and residents of all boroughs and townships in Lawrence county will also be taken care of at this time.

Wednesday, September 11, registrars will sit in the municipal building at Ellwood City during the same hours, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. and 7 to 10 p. m., for residents of Ellwood City, and all other boroughs and surrounding townships.

Tuesday, September 17, registrars will be at the municipal building in Bessemer during the same hours as mentioned above for Bessemer residents and those living in the surrounding community.

Willkie Canny On Controversy

Refuses To Be Drawn Into

Roosevelt On Issue

By WALTER KIERNAN

COLORADO SPRINGS, Aug. 10.—That Wendell Willkie will not be drawn into the position of consultant to the Roosevelt administration either directly or indirectly was plain today.

In the past few weeks he has been approached by telephone, telegram, mail and in person to give his views on the sale of naval ships to the British government and on other topics of foreign policy.

Suspects Trap
Apparently suspecting that he was being led into a position from which there might be no retreat during his campaign, Willkie issued a statement in which he frankly reported this fact:

"During the course of the last couple of weeks, several different persons have communicated with me, some frankly stating that they did not represent the administration while others left doubt as to their status.

"President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, said to President Herbert Hoover in November 1932.—The immediate questions raised  create a responsibility which rests upon those now vested with executive and legislative authority."

"Much doubt was expressed as to the wisdom of that statement by a president-elect. None can doubt its correctness when taken by a candidate for president."

By that statement, Willkie indicated.

Governor's Secretary Re-

Will Increase For Election

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 10.—An increase in highway department pay-rolls prior to the November election predicted by Democratic State Chairman Meredith Meyers met with an immediate denial today from the governor's office.

In a prepared statement, Meyers said that "already the word has gone into the counties to select the faithful for the 'political maintenance' jobs to be paid out of the motorists' funds that Gov. Arthur H. James, a few months ago said were so necessary for relief."

He asserted that there would be a "noticeable suppression of information regarding personnel changes beginning in about two weeks when the Republican machine gets into motion."

Neither Governor James, Highway Secretary I. Lamont Hughes nor other department officials could be reached for comment, but J. Paul Pedigo, the governor's secretary, described the statement as "smear tactics."

"The governor's office will be very happy to comply with any reasonable request for highway department payroll information at any time," Pedigo asserted.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Revealing that 1,000 ships are engaged in shuttling food and war supplies between America and England, British purchasing commission officials today maintained the Germans haven't one chance in a thousand of starving the British Isles by blockade.

Great Britain at the present time has more steamers at her disposal for carrying of supplies than she had at the outset of the war, representatives of the commission declared at a press conference.

To date, England has already received 2,900 planes from the United States while 8,100 planes are on order, it was revealed.

Total value of war orders placed in America by the British now exceeds $2,000,000,000, it was stated.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Killing and wounding an undisclosed number of Britons and damaging houses in far-flung areas, Nazi raiders kept hammering at the British Isles during the night and today in an apparent attempt to "soften up" the nation before the promised invasion begins.

A joint communique by the British air ministry and ministry of home security stated:

"During the night enemy aircraft bombing attacks spread to many districts.

"In a town in the northwest bombs destroyed several houses and caused some fatalities.

"A number of places in south-eastern England and a few places in northeast and southwest England and Wales were attacked. Bombs damaged houses but casualties were few. One person was killed."

Late this morning a German raider machine-gunned a group of workmen on buildings in a south-east village. The plane then jettisoned its bombs in the district and fled as British fighting planes appeared.

Several casualties but little material damage were reported.

Twelve high explosive bombs hit one southeastern town, damaging many buildings in the residential area and causing a number of casualties.

Several persons, however, had almost incredible escapes.

The story should have read "or three months in the county jail" in the case of Askounes and "or one month in the county jail" in the case of Miron. The jail sentence is merely an alternative in the event that the payment of the fines is defaulted. Both fines have been paid.

Club Stewards Get Jail Terms

(International News Service)

BEAVER, Pa., Aug. 10.—Ernest Langone, 41, of Beaver Falls, reputed king of the slot machine racket in Beaver county, was in jail today in default of $10,000 bail. He was arrested last night by state police and waived hearing.

Earlier in the day, in criminal court, Judge Henry H. Wilson sentenced three men to jail and fined them $500 each after they pleaded guilty to charges. A fourth man, free on $500 bail, failed to put in an appearance.

The trio which drew a year's jail term was composed of Henry Edward Winters, steward of the Moose Lodge at Beaver Falls; William Morritt, of the Moose at Rochester, and James A. Nolder, steward of the Eagles club at Monaca.

The missing man was identified as W. W. Feits, steward of the Moose Lodge at New Brighton. Winters, Morritt, Nolder and Feits were arrested last Monday by a state police raiding party.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10.—A masked man kidnaped a 19-year-old Beaver county girl early today and held her captive in her boy friend's car for more than an hour before releasing her, police reported.

The girl was identified as Colleen Hetherington of Baden.

Miss Hetherington, according to the police report, had been out with John Johnson, 22, of Baden in his automobile. The masked man forced Johnson, apparently at gunpoint, to get out of the car, took the wheel and drove away with the girl, police said.

The young woman said she was held captive for more than an hour and was released about 4 o'clock this morning. The man, she reported, wore a black hood in which he had cut eyeholes. He asked for money, but turned it down when he learned that Johnson had only 10 cents.

"I didn't want Johnny to go, but he threatened to kill us both," police quoted Miss Hetherington.

The girl and Johnson had been to a wiener roast at Raccoon Creek and were on their way home when the kidnaping occurred, police were told.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Two of President Roosevelt's crack European diplomats—Joseph P. Kennedy of Boston, and Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, of Philadelphia—were named today in Capitol Hill gossip as surprise possibilities for appointment as postmaster general to succeed James A. Farley when he retires August 31.

Kennedy, now ambassador to London is reported anxious to return to native shores. Biddle, arriving today in New York, is an ambassador without a country, since the Hitler conquest of Poland.

Business Man

One prominent new dealer however forecasted to International News Service that the next postmaster general would be a well-known business man, not now prominently identified with the new deal. He hinted that appointee might even be of Republican faith, thereby giving the Roosevelt cabinet an even stronger bi-partisan character than at present.

This new dealer, who asked that his name not be used, said:

"I think I know the president and if I know him as well as I think he will bring a new identity into the cabinet. The next postmaster general will not be closely identified in the public mind as a new dealer

Cudahy Denies Criticism Of British

Food Situation In Belgium Bad

Repeats That Famine Faces Belgium This Winter If Relief Is Not Had

NO SLUR MEANT ON YANK SOLDIERS

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HESTON, Eng., Aug. 10.—Disclaiming any intention of criticizing Great Britain or her Allies, John Cudahy, United States ambassador to Belgium, today defended himself against attacks resulting from statements he made at a London press conference earlier this week.

Replies To Critics
Cudahy replied to his critics in an exclusive interview with International News Service at Heston air-drome just before departing by plane for Lisbon, where he plans to embark aboard a clipper plane for the United States.

At the London press conference Cudahy had predicted famine in Belgium this winter and had stated that German soldiers there had conducted themselves better than American soldiers would have done under similar circumstances.

Today the American envoy said he had not meant his words as criticism of Britain and that he had not intended to praise Germany or reflect upon the conduct of American soldiers.

Cudahy denied he had been "re-called" to Washington and declared he simply is en route home to report to his chiefs in the normal course of events. He added that he did not need disciplining in ambassadorial behavior.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Yesterday, through the state department, President Roosevelt summoned Cudahy home for "consultation" regarding the London press interview. On behalf of the government, Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles repudiated views expressed in the press conference by Cudahy.

May End Career
Hinting that the incident may end his diplomatic career, Cudahy stated that the question of his future status must be decided by Washington. If he leaves the diplomatic service, he said, he intends to devote himself to Belgian relief work.

Asserting that his press conference statements were "completely misunderstood and not reported fully or correctly, at least by the English press," Cudahy earnestly declared:

"I was not criticizing anything or anybody. I had no intention of speaking in political terms or for any political effect in the tenor of my remarks."

"I simply explained, at the request of press questioners, the situation in Belgium as I had seen it. My remarks were not in any way a description of things from a political standpoint outside Belgium."

"I had no intention to reflect on the war conduct of Britain or her Allies, and certainly no intention of praising Germany."

"Naturally, as ambassador to Belgium in these fearful days, I conceived it my duty to observe as accurately, coldly and impartially as possible events as they took place to report them to my government."

"Having seen events in which 8,000,000 persons were brought to the verge of starvation, I could not remain wholly indifferent."

Food Situation Bad
"If I spoke critically regarding the food situation there, I meant it completely and I still mean it. It is not pleasant to contemplate a whole country in grave want."

"It has been very unfair of the British press to interpret my remarks regarding the Belgians and food as criticism of British conduct of the blockade."

"In speaking of the conduct of the German army in areas where no fighting occurred and where a simple occupation took place, I intended no praise of the German army and expressed no personal opinion. I simply said factually what had occurred."

"My reference to German conduct being better than that of American doughboys under similar circumstances was entirely jocular and I laughed when I said it. It was not a serious remark and was not intended as such. Certainly it was not a reflection on my own soldier boys. It may be remembered that for many months I was with the American army in the Russian campaign of 1919."

"What I sought to convey, but what now appears to have been misinterpreted, was simply that the Germans did not enter into the occupation as Barbarians to commit atrocities."

muniqué told of heavy Royal air force attacks on Italian shipping and military positions in Africa. It said:

"British bombers attacked in Tobruk harbor, setting at least one vessel on fire. They attacked the Hergeisa-Mount Turgargon road (along which Italian troops were reported advancing in British Somaliland) and also the Karmir Pass area."

"British aircraft also bombed heavily the Massawa Jetty, anti-aircraft battery, aircraft barracks and floating dock and raided a fuel dump at Maialadaga."

"The South African air force bombed the Negheli airdrome, destroying two and damaging two Italian Caproni planes on the ground and setting fire to trucks. Direct hits were obtained on buildings. All our aircraft returned from all operations. The British casualties number two plane crew members who were wounded."

Damage Warships

Rome, Aug. 10.—Serious damages to two British warships, bombing attacks on British positions in North Africa and an advance beyond the captured British Somaliland town of Odweina were announced in the Italian military bulletin today.

An air raid also was carried out against the British Somaliland capital, Berbera, according to the communiqué, which said:

"The British warship Resolution was seriously damaged, especially at the Stern Turret, and an enemy destroyer also was badly damaged by our air bombing attacks on August 1."

"In North Africa our air formations effectively bombed the railroad station at Nersamatruh and concentrations of motorized equipment at Sidibarrani."

"In East Africa our rapidly-marching troops occupied and advanced beyond Odweina in British Somaliland."

"Our aviation carried out a raid on the port and airport at Berbera, hitting a ship and setting on fire two enemy planes of the Gloster type on the ground. Motorized equipment was shelled at Buna."

"The enemy carried out an unsuccessful air raid against Massawa, Harrar and Gura."

REPUBLICAN MAY GET FARLEY'S JOB

and he may even be a Republican. If he is a Republican, it would strengthen the bi-partisan character of the president's cabinet, following his appointment of the publicans, Henry L. Stimson and Frank Knox, as secretaries of war and navy.

"The president knows how to play shrewd politics and the postmaster general is historically a political appointee. I believe the president will bring a new face into his cabinet to strengthen his political position in the coming campaign."

Walker Out

Talk of either Kennedy or Biddle getting the appointment followed rumors that Frank C. Walker, New York attorney and longtime friend of the president, had no desire to enter the cabinet. Walker quit the federal service some years ago with a declaration that he intended to remain in private life, while helping the president with all of his ability as a private citizen.

Other names mentioned include the new Democratic chairman-elect Edward J. Flynn, of New York; social security administrator Paul V. McNutt, of Indiana; Gov. Lloyd C. Stark of Missouri, and Sen. James M. Mead of New York. Friends of Flynn, while boosting him for the cabinet said, privately they did not believe he could handle both national chairmanship and postmaster generalship during a heated campaign.

ASK SUBMISSION TO POPULAR VOTE OF CONTROVERSY

dodge" the issue of compulsory military training until after the election. Spurning overtures to support the amendment they turned to a discussion of plans to challenge both parties for a popular referendum.

Anti-conscriptionists, it was learned, are looking up records to ascertain whether there are legal technicalities standing in the way of putting the issue up to the people for popular vote.

Although he denied knowledge of the proposed referendum, Sen. McCarran (D) Nev., a strong opponent of the pending legislation, said that should the people be given an opportunity to pass on compulsory military training "it would be killed dead rather than a doornail."

Have Votes

Senate administration leaders, confident that they have the votes to pass the bill making 12,000,000 men between the ages of 21 and 31 liable to a year's military training, also have turned thumbs down on the Maloney amendment.

Majority Leader Barkley serves notice that the administration forces have enough strength to avoid the necessity of a compromise on any of the proposed changes in the bill which have been brought up in the senate.

Expressing the administration's arguments for the bill, Barkley contends that a sufficient number of men to increase the army to 375,000 could not be obtained in a short time by voluntary enlistment.

There was some support for the Maloney amendment, however, on the grounds that it would serve as an opportunity to prove the contention of opponents of conscription that voluntary enlistment will suffice during time of peace.

Restore Training

As the historic debate over the controversial measure threatened to run at least two more weeks, Senator Burke (D) Neb., co-sponsor of the original Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill, said he had found widespread support for his amendment restoring the training program to its original quota.

Burke intends to ask the senate to extend the ages for selective military training from 21 to 45. It was testified before the senate military affairs committee that this would result in the registration of approximately 24,000,000 men. Under the 21 to 31 limitation, which calls for the registration of 12,000,000 men, only 6,000,000 are expected to be retained for service after exemptions are made for dependents, physical disabilities and other considerations.

Barkley, meanwhile, served notice that when the debate is resumed on the bill Monday the senate may be held in almost continuous session until a final vote is taken.

You can't change the meaning of words to suit you. A Liberal is still one who believes in cutting down the state's coercive power over the individual, and a Tory is one who believes the opposite.

Devotion Has No Price Tag

Too many people try to measure devotion in terms of price. Many times they impose hardship upon themselves by exceeding their means when arranging a funeral. At Burke's you are assured of elegance no matter how little you can afford.

PRIMER OF AMERICANISM

PHILIP D. REED, recently elected chairman of the board of General Electric Company, has written a primer of Americanism which merits the attention of every citizen. It contains seven points of advice, as follows:

1. Understand, honor and preserve the Constitution of the United States.
2. Keep forever separate and distinct the legislative, executive and judicial functions of government.
3. Remember that government belongs to the people, is inherently inefficient, and that its activities should be limited to those which government alone can perform.
4. Be vigilant for freedom of speech, freedom of worship and freedom of action.
5. Cherish the system of free enterprise which made America great.
6. Respect thrift and economy, and beware of debt.
7. Above all, let us be scrupulous in keeping our word and in respecting the rights of others.

Carefully observed and upheld, these principles would go far toward preventing the infiltration of objectionable foreign ideologies. Mr. Reed must be credited with singling out seven fundamental steps in the American way of life.

WAR WEATHER VANES

In furtherance of the eager search of almost everybody for light on the true military situation as between Germany and Britain, there occasionally creep into the dispatches little bits of information which may be indicative of a Nazi lack of confidence.

One such is the Berlin announcement that Germany has developed a new and superior type of fighter plane which is designed to meet the British Spitfire. On its face this would appear to be tacit admission that the British have had the better of the Germans in at least one type of aerial warfare and that the Germans are trying to repair their defect. London has been claiming a qualitative superiority for the Royal Air Force which largely offsets the Nazis quantitatively.

A note of rising British confidence is the conversion of the Defensive machine into a mobile one capable of striking at any point. The British began on a theory of static defense—a solid, immovable stand. It is the immemorial dogma of defense, but all who have tried it against Germany have evaporated. Britain apparently believes its organization is such that it can meet Hitler on his own terms.

On the continent the Nazis are trying to shift populations at a great rate, the main thought being to get conquered manpower over into Germany for farm and industrial labor. This argues that Germany has a far more serious organizational problem than Britain.

Hitler's over-long blitzkrieg delay and his apparent reliance upon bombing and submarine war imply a change of plan from the time that France fell like a straw man and the Nazis boasted that Britain would be easy.

AID FOR REFUGEES

Had any one needed proof that the fortunes of war flash constantly new angles on problems—just as it may change the American political campaign completely between now and election day—he would see such proof in the trouble this government is having in getting food to the refugees in France.

Before France flopped, Congress gave President Roosevelt $50,000,000 to distribute among refugees in Europe. It was easy at that time to ship food from the United States to France. Today France is included in the British blockade, and if President Roosevelt can develop a way through which to get food to the refugees in France, Britain is not expected to approve the move.

Such help to France would fly in the face of the British plan to starve out Europe and thus bag Hitler. Moreover, Britain has a lively suspicion that American food sent to France would be taken by the Germans, fed to their own forces or forwarded on to Germany.

The American Red Cross also has collected $20,000,000 for the refugees. It is getting some food into France, by agreement with Britain, but is taking care not to make an agreement with the Germans which would let the business of distribution get out of Red Cross hands.

CLINGING TO SALARIES

One of the things brought out by the war with all its disruptions and disorders is the remarkable capacity the run of politicians in the diplomatic line demonstrate in hating on to their official salaries. No tighter grip on a teat was ever taken than that by the average diplomat on the public treasury.

The chaos which has overcome Europe at the hands of Hitler has scattered embassies to the winds. Most of the legation staffs have hiked for home, but nothing has appeared in print about their stipends being suspended. The pay they get abroad they continue to get at home.

Foreign Minister Zaleski, addressing the Polish parliament—late in France, now in England—said that Poland's diplomatic representation in France would be resumed. Of course, the Polish minister will not return to France. But he will get some kind of a lien on a salary to be collected when Poland is restored as a separate country.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

DEALING WITH PROBLEM CHILD

Suppose you were only 24 and had four children from 14 months to five and one-half years of age, do you suppose you would be half as poised and successful as the mother who wrote the following letter?

"Dear Dr. Myers:—I really feel as if I am writing to an old friend in writing you as I have been benefited by the advice in your column so often. . . .

"I am only 24 but am the mother of four children, 5½, 3½, 2½, and 14 months. In the big things like going into the street, coming out when put to bed, etc., I seem to have them under control but I am at a loss what to do about those annoying little things that drive me to distraction yet hardly seem to merit a spanking or other real punishment. The problem child seems to shift from one to the other. Right now the oldest boy is the one who seems to make the most trouble. He is continually picking up things he is not supposed to touch, sticking his fingers in food, etc., always seeming to know just how far he can go without any real punishment but I know that the continual scoldings are not helping him, and certainly not me. I have felt that perhaps these things have arisen from jealousy and I try to spend time reading to them, etc., but I have so little time and since their father works at night he does not have much chance to be with them. I certainly will appreciate any help you can give me. This continual uproar is beginning to make me feel I am a complete failure as a mother.

"A self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed."

My reply:
"Bless your soul, young mother, you should be proud of your success in handling these four little children. If any of us fathers had your job we would be nuts. What I marvel at is that you reveal as much poise as you do. You have controlled these little children well in large matters. But as you indicate, there are hundreds of little items that try your patience.

"Let me suggest that you put a few more of these 'little things' in the group of 'big things'. For example, after you have warned the youngster once or twice about a forbidden act, speak no more; act. Assign the offender to sit in a chair where you can see him doing nothing for exactly 20 minutes by the clock. If he moves one inch from the chair without permission spank him soundly and without warning. Please read to them. Let other things go.

"A little dust or disorder is unimportant in comparison to such companionship with them. Let the eldest choose the story, as a rule, since he is 'so big'.

"You are right in suspecting jealousy in him. Don't make him give up his things to the younger; certainly not often. See that the younger ones respect his rights. When he does something fine praise him; also when he cooperates with you. When he seems most out of sorts pick him up, hold him on your lap and cuddle him. This will give him the reassurance he so much needs, that he is loved.

"If at all possible, hire some help so you can get more rest and recreation. You even might afford to borrow money for this purpose till these children grow old enough to care for themselves and help you. Train them then to share in the home duties.

"Please Mrs., never condemn yourself again. I just know you are a wonderful mother to those lovely little children and may God bless you. Be proud of your successes with them."

I enclosed a folder describing a series of 15 pamphlets I have written on the baby and young child, being simple presentations of my university lectures to pre-school parents. Anyone else may receive this folder by writing me at 235 E. 45th St., New York City, N. Y., enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Just Folks

SUCCESS

This part of the code that a man must be:

Honest and kind and clean.

For what is the good of his skill if he

Is bitter and harsh and mean?

And what is the worth of the prize he earns

If after the night comes down Nobody rejoices, as he returns

From the care of the busy town?

Isn't enough to be shrewdly wise Or clever hand or strong?

The lasting joy of a lifetime lies In friendship and mirth and song.

Unless something of love and kindness clings

To the triumphs a man may win The gains he makes are pitiful things

And selfish and cold as sin.

There's little pride in a brain, all smart.

More cunning and strength are cold.

Man must be more than a fighting heart

And more than a killer cold.

He must grace with character all his deeds.

Be honest and clean and kind.

For the life successful also needs The triumphs of heart and mind.

Hints On Etiquette

If you have allergies to certain foods, better notify your week-end hostess in time so that she can avoid those foods in her meal planning, or say nothing about them, and "the best you can" it is embarrassing for a hostess to plan a delicious meal and then be told that her guest cannot eat so-and-so.

Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.—Gal. 6:2.

IN ANY STATION

A bus or railway station's quite an interesting place. One reads a lifetime history in every single face.

Where happy youth and troubled age Are waiting side by side; Where calls of duty—sorrow—joy—Prompt each to take a ride.

A strange man sees a girl, and smiles. She thinks his actions naughty; And turns her pretty head, as she Appears aloof and haughty.

One reads their thoughts as persons wait To start on varied trails. A car-free maid chews gum, and one Who's worried, chews her nails.

What's What At A Glance

Republican Campaign Starts Slowly
Democrats Are Badly Disorganized
G. O. P. Will Conserve Its Finances

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. — The Republicans are singularly slow in getting their presidential campaign vigorously a-going.

The Democrats are slow, too, but that isn't so odd. Their national committee has been in a sad state of disorganization, with Chairman Farley just quitting. They doubtless simply have to have a certain amount of time to steam up under the management of Edward J. Flynn, Farley's successor.

Chairman Joe Martin, at the G. O. P.'s throttle, however, assuredly is thoroughly familiar already with all the political gadgets he has to control.

Yet Republican headquarters announces that it doesn't intend to hit things up to a maximum before Labor Day. Why not until then? Spokesmen answer, "We haven't any money at present." And they act as if they really hadn't. Anyway, they're not spending much thus far. There's considerable good publicity they could have by paying for it, but they won't begin footing the bill.

The Democrats, on their part, can afford to wait awhile, if the G. O. P.'s inactivity permits 'em to do so.

Delay a Democratic Asset
Delay would be helpful to the Democrats.

While things drag along, there nevertheless is an undercurrent of questioning, "Say, who is Wilkie?" For there's no denying that he wasn't a bit well known to the bulk of the country's voters until mightily shortly before his nomination at Philadelphia.

And the standardized Democratic answer to this query is, "Why, he's a big utility man."

Now, indisputably "big public utility men" generally have been unpopular in this country in recent years. If a regular above-board campaign were raging, with Wilkie being referred to from the stump as a big public utility man, the charge against him would be vociferously repudiated, with the explanation that he's an exception—he's been a GOOD public utility man.

But this sotto voce stuff isn't rebutted at all.

Hence, when the campaign really opens, and the Wilkieites break out oratorically in his behalf, there's the risk that a lot of the electorate will have been convinced in advance that Wendell's chief of the ordinary public utility stripe and a dead-end preliminary mischief to his candidacy will have to be undone, and maybe it can't be.

Domestic Policies
The G. O. P. likewise needs to develop a formidable attack on the New Deal's administrative methods.

As to policies, it doesn't differ widely from President Roosevelt's. It considers him too interfering in foreign affairs, but it agrees with him as to preparedness. It recognizes much good in his socio-economic plans, but it maintains that he's bungled them hopelessly in execution. It implies that he's contemptuously totalitarian.

And it needs to get started, as speedily as possible, in its warfare against his domestic policies and his expenditures—his alleged wastefulness.

Otherwise, if the war goes on an increasing rampage, domestic arguments, unless furiously agitated previously, will be completely drowned.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE THIRD TIME

Casca—Why, there was a crown offered him, and being offered him he put it by with the back of his hand, thus, and the people fell a-shouting.

Brutus—What was the second noise for?

Casca—Why, for that too.

Cassius—Why, they shouted three. What was the last cry for, too?

Casca—Why, for that, too.

Brutus—Was the crown offered him three?

Casca—Ay, Marry was't; and he put it by three, every time gentler than the other; and at every putting-by, my honest neighbors shouted.—Julius Caesar 1.1.

There is only a slight difference between what happened in Chicago in the balloting for President at the National Democratic Convention and what the characters in Shakespeare's Play depicted.

The President made, if you will, a motion with the back of his hand. He said, "Far be it from me to seek a third term"—that he would prefer the quiet of Hyde Park to the turmoil in Washington; at least, he said that, but he has not hesitated to accept what was offered him, and no doubt if Julius Caesar had lived, he would have accepted the Crown.

It is not pleasant to look at national events in this manner. The people of this nation do not desire an Absolute Monarchy foisted upon them or a Dictatorship, which is the same thing, for no King of history has ever wielded the powers possessed by Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin.

A rose by another name would be just as sweet, and so a King by any other name, is still a King.

The paragraphs of today like to talk about the "Twilight of Kings" and say, with more or less sympathy for the Fuehrer, that the Kingdom of Great Britain will soon pass.

No, as long as humans live upon this earth, the strong-man—the King—the Can Man as Carlyle calls him, will always aspire to rule, absolutely, and without question on the part of his subjects, and so I fear the President of these United States has aspirations to be the "Can Man" of all history.

WHAT, then, is the answer? It would seem that everyone would know it to be reduction in governmental costs. That steps in that direction have not been taken and are not planned is hard to understand. Nevertheless, the only proposed step—the one embodied in the Byrd resolution for a ten per cent. cut all down the line—was scuttled by the Administration forces in the Senate six weeks ago. Today retrenchment is not even discussed. A nation which for ten years has been living far beyond its means now proposes to add eleven billions to a debt already higher than seems safe without tightening its belt a notch. And the party in power in the platform

Painful Fiscal Facts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. THERE is so much passion about the defense program and so much partisanship and prejudice linked with the political campaign that it is not surprising people, generally, lose sight of the less spectacular, but none the less basic, facts connected with the national security. The popular blindness to the facts is largely promoted by what appears to be the fixed Administration policy of ignoring them.

FOR example, having obtained from Congress authorization for approximately $11,000,000,000 for defense, there is a decided disposition to assume that it is not necessary to think about anything except spending these billions as speedily as possible. The whole emphasis is upon pouring them out. The question of how the money is to be raised is given scant consideration. Either it is brushed aside altogether or is touched upon in a vague and desultory way.

THE first essential, it is declared, is to get contracts signed and work under way. Of course, there is a deal in that argument, but hardly enough to justify such complete indifference to the matter of who is going to pay the bill and how and with what. Those points are treated as inconsequential. No questions are asked concerning them at the White House press conference; no information is volunteered. Yet no man capable of coherent thought can fail to realize that there is the utmost peril for all of us in going ahead without taking certain essential steps to guard against the undermining of the national credit and to buttress the Federal financial structure against the tremendous strain about to be imposed.

UP to date not only has nothing been done along that line but no thought has been given to doing anything. The nation's credit is about to be strained as it has not been strained before. It is true that the purpose for which the strain is being imposed is endorsed by practically everybody in the country. But that makes it all the more necessary to protect the people. That would seem to impose a bigger obligation upon the Government than to take advantage of their confidence. But, apparently, the only plan the Government has is to continue its practice of selling its bonds to the banks, already choked with Government securities. All competent authorities agree that indefinite continuation of this practice is a menace to national credit and bank solvency which easily can lead to depreciation of the currency by the issuance of fiat money with which to redeem the Government securities—in brief, to the cruder form of inflation.

BEYOND doubt the new tax bill will increase revenues to some extent, but it is conceded to be a half-baked and wholly inadequate measure. More and heavier taxes will have to be imposed next year, regardless of who is elected President, and the people generally are reconciled to the inevitability of these. In fact, there has been evinced a rather extraordinary public willingness

Senior Choir To Present Special Music For Service In Community House

SERVICES OPEN AT SEVEN O'CLOCK

Trinity church takes its turn according to the assignment of the committee in charge for leadership at the 10 o'clock door service in Cascade Park Sunday evening, at 7 o'clock when all of the people of the city of all races and creeds are invited to attend.

This service is being promoted by the Laymen's League of Trinity church of which Harry J. Cullford is president. Men of the parish, led by the officers of this organization will do the ushering, take the offering, and do everything in their power to help make the service helpful. The senior choir will render two anthems, "He Shall Come Down Like Rain," by Barnes and "Teach me Thy Way, O Lord," by Spohr, with Miss Harriett L. Hemphill at the piano. Well known and much loved hymns have been chosen. "Our God, Our Help in Ages Past," "Sun of My Soul, Thou Saviour Dear," "Lord, Speak to Me," and "America."

The Rev. Philip C. Pearson's subject will be "Cement" in his sermon he will seek to unfold what it can do for people in this country today. Union services are held each Sunday evening, at 7 o'clock in the New Community House at the park, during the summer, under the sponsorship of the New Castle Ministerial Association.

Bible Conference Enters Last Week

Evangelist Dan McNally To Speak At Three Services In Tabernacle On Sunday

Fifth annual Summer Bible Conference, which has been in progress at the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle on the East Side since July 7, will enter its seventh and final week at the tabernacle on Sunday with three special Bible conference sessions, beginning at 11 a. m., 2:30 p. m., and 7:30 p. m.

The sessions will be in charge of the pastor, Raymond J. Fredericks, and guest speaker will be Evangelist Dan McNally of Baltimore, Md., a leading conference speaker.

Mr. McNally has announced the following sermon subjects for the three Sunday sessions, "The Holy Spirit in Jesus Christ," "Lost But Found," and "A Fugitive, First Prison Break Before each message. Mr. McNally will relate an experience from his underworld or prison life.

His sermon subject for this evening's service is "Six Wolves."

Grove City Man To Preach Here

Dr. Charles A. Platt, professor of Philosophy at Grove City College, Grove City, Pa., will be guest preacher at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the absence of Dr. J. J. McVaine, who is on vacation.

Dr. Platt has taught for many years at Grove City College and is well qualified to discuss any theme he may choose. His message is always interesting and instructive.

Special music will be furnished by members of the church quartet with Mary Louise Kirkpatrick, at the organ. There is no evening service in the church, the congregation joining in the union service at Cascade Park.

Tabernacle Revival Services Continue

Revival meetings, now in progress at Gethsemane Tabernacle, are to continue through Sunday, August 18, according to announcement made by the pastor, Rev. Clifford L. Duncan.

Large crowds have gathered each evening to hear Rev. S. Mersheimer, the speaker. He also conducted a meeting at the tabernacle last November.

Tonight, there will be an old time song and praise service with Rev. Mersheimer delivering the message. On Sunday, there will be two services, at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. There is special music by visiting talent each evening.

To Have Services At Bethel Church

Bethel U. P. church in North Beaver township will have services as usual Sundays, August 11 and 18, at 10:30 a. m. The service August 11 will be conducted by Rev. Richard Liston of Canton, O., and the service August 18 by Rev. Henry Ford of Mansfield, O.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Liston, the former Miss Sadie Hawkins, were members of Bethel church at one time, and Mrs. Ford, formerly Miss Alice Witherspoon, was also a member of this church.

The regular pastor, Rev. Bradley Watkins, is away on his vacation. There will be no worship service at the church on Sunday, August 25.

College Quartet At Local Church

The Huntington College male quartet, of Huntington, Ind., will be at the Crawford avenue United Brethren church this evening and Sunday morning. The quartet is touring various churches of this denomination in behalf of the college.

They will present an inspirational program of sacred selections. Services begin at 7:30 this evening, at 10:30 Sunday morning.

REV. W. G. THORNTON TO PREACH IN SHARON

Rev. William G. Thornton, pastor of Rev. William A. Thornton, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, will preach at Oakland avenue Methodist church in Sharon on Sunday. Oakland church is a former pastorate of the Rev. William A. Thornton.

When we are working hard and thus making ourselves richer, we feel poor; when we are spending money and thus making ourselves poorer, we feel rich.

upon which it seeks continuation in office ignored the whole subject of Federal finance as though it did not exist.

THAT under existing conditions the Government should not immediately suspend all public work not actually essential to the general welfare, and curtail all governmental activities and expenditures so as to permit the handling of this immense armament program without undermining the national credit, just does not make sense. But no such course is in contemplation. There is no plan to curtail or cut down—not even in the WPA, where the greatest savings could be made and although the defense program is certain greatly to reduce unemployment. The last thing this Administration will do—at least before election—is cut down. Rather than do that it seems willing to risk irretrievable economic ruin. This is not a pleasant picture to look at, but the more people can be made to view it now, the less painful it is likely to be in the end.

out. And the G. O. P. is deferring its agitation until Labor Day.

Plenty of Interviews
Of course, Candidate Willkie is giving out plenty of interviews. Also wisecracks.

Nevertheless, the Republicans haven't launched a genuine offensive, and they say they won't do so until nearly the last minute. They've had considerable tip-top material offered to them and, at first, they accepted some of it, but, on second thought, they've choked it off until Labor Day.

I suppose they actually haven't the cash to work any faster. But, if they want to win, it would pay them to dig it up. Democratic headquarters is enjoying the situation first rate.

Women Conquer Lofty Summit Of Grand Teton

Quartet Of Young Women
First Of Sex To Accomplish Feat

(International News Service)

CASPER, Wyo.—Four intrepid women from widely scattered parts of the country recently became the first of their sex to conquer the lofty summit of Grand Teton Mountain.

Climbed many times by men, the 13,766 foot elevation was marked down as another feminine stronghold by Anne Sharpless of Cambridge, Mass., Margaret Bedell of Omaha, Neb., Margaret Smith of Ogden, Utah, and Mary Whittemore of Scarsdale, N. Y.

Three of the young women are experienced climbers and have scaled many of the Teton peaks in the past—but with skilled mountain guides. Miss Smith, youngest of the group, boasts the enviable record of having scaled most of the peaks at the age of 16. Miss Bedell would like to climb them all. Miss Sharpless leader on the trip is a skier of national reputation. It was the first mountain climbing experience for Miss Whittemore.

The girls recorded their jaunt thus: "Left base camp, lower saddle elevation 11,000 feet at 3:50 a. m., ascended by the Owen regular route and reached summit 8:20 a. m., left peak 10 a. m., arrived Jenny Lake 5:10 a. m."

The laconic record is filed in the Jenny Lake museum of the Grand Teton national park.

Less they be accused of "stunting" the girls are quick to explain their climb was not the result of a harebrained decision, but the culmination of four years of Alpine training under professional tutelage.

ATTACH CARNIVAL

FOR DEBT TO FAIR

Lawrence Greater Shows, which exhibited at the New Castle Fair this week, left town this morning, a little behind schedule, due to the fact that their belongings were attached by the sheriff in order to satisfy an obligation of $876.44, which it is alleged was due the Fair association in payment for the latter's share of the receipts from the exhibitions. They were able to pay up this morning, after which they proceeded on their way.

Yes, the ignorant can be taught; but Alas! if a head is empty now, propaganda and the truth have equal chance to fill it.

Seek To Evacuate Refugees Of Flood

(International News Service)
CROWLEY, La., Aug. 10.—Plans for a mass evacuation of flood-covered Crowley took definite shape this morning.

Red Cross officials said efforts are being made to secure trains to remove most of the city's 3,000 inhabitants because of an almost intolerable sanitary situation and lack of food.

Most residents of the town had only milk and bread for breakfast this morning.

Public health officials had arrived and were chlorinating the contaminated water supply.

The one consolation, if civilization goes to the dogs, will be that a lot of people who helped it go will get what is coming to them.

There are only four of the 48 states that have no alimony statutes. They are Delaware, Texas, North Carolina and South Carolina, which grant no divorces.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

HEALTH IN THE COUNTRY.

From time to time this column has discussed widely held beliefs about health that are superstitions. To these we should add the common idea that the country is the healthiest place to live. I feel impelled to call this a superstition because it is spread far beyond the facts. I know I'm guilty myself, in a way, because I'm always telling my city friends that they don't know what they're missing.

There was a time when it was healthier to live in the country, but science, city planning, municipal enterprise and advances in housing have changed the picture. The cities quickly take advantage of scientific advances. One reason is that their dense populations make them better able to afford them. The country areas lag behind in health measures and housing improvement.

Almost every disease produced by environment that can be controlled is now more rampant in the country than the city. Nowadays it is the rural areas that are responsible for the high death rates from typhoid, para-typhoid, bovine tuberculosis, undulant fever and other environment diseases.

A favorite reason given for the safety of living in the country is that milk and other foods come direct to the consumer. That used to seem to be a good argument but we know it isn't any more. Before they reach the consumer, foods should be inspected and treated so that they will contain no disease or infection. Cities have laws compelling this precaution to be taken. Few rural communities have such inspection.

In the cities, municipal water systems are constantly treated and checked so that they are usually safe. Good water in the country is as much a matter of accident as anything. Bad water produces many cases of sickness in the country.

As you go to the country this year, remember that you are no longer under the protecting influence of the city. Investigate your water and milk supplies. The state or municipal government will give you chlorine tablets to put in water to make it safer for drinking. You can pasteurize your milk yourself. These precautions are well worth taking.

Incubator Baby Gaining Weight

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Giordano, of 502 East Lutton street, are the proud parents of a small daughter, Corinne, who weighs exactly three pounds and four ounces.

Corinne was born at home on Monday, August 5, and at the time of her birth weighed two pounds and eleven ounces. An improvised incubator is where she is resting since her birth.

CORNROAST ATTRACTS 100

Social Event To Celebrate
Opening Of New Club
Rooms For Rinascenta Lodge

Associates of the Rinascenta lodge, No. 19 Order of the Italian Sons and Daughters of America, will sponsor a social event on Sunday afternoon, honoring the opening of the lodge's new club rooms on Morton street.

From the hour of 2 o'clock, an informal social time will be enjoyed by members and friends, who will gather for this occasion. A local orchestra will provide the music entertainment.

A committee has been chosen to have charge of the affair: Mrs. Vera Puno, Jennie Graziani, Mrs. Noble DeLorenzo, Mrs. Sue Giamarino, Mrs. Ubaldo Cassalena, Mrs. Edith Matricardi, Mrs. Anna Chiappari, Jennie Graziani D'Amato, and Mrs. Elvira DeFalco.

Elks Here To Join Host At 'Glamorgan'

New Castle's Elks and their ladies will motor Sunday to Alliance, O., to inspect the new million-dollar home of Alliance Lodge 467, "the most beautiful Elks home in America."

At the home, the former residence of Col. W. H. Morgan—called "Glamorgan"—will be nearly 3,000 Elks and their ladies from eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania cities.

Two bands and other entertainers will be on the grounds for the two-day "grand opening" which gets under way today.

The Elks of Alliance purchased the stately mansion and its 50 acres and plans to maintain it as a community center.

More Power Given Philippine Leader

(International News Service)
MANILA, P. I., Aug. 10.—A bill cloaking President Manuel Quezon with virtually unlimited powers to cope with any emergency resulting from the European war was passed today by the Philippine assembly.

President Quezon last week admitted he was contemplating drastic revision of the Philippine national defense program but denied he was seeking additional power except that required to meet a national emergency which might dislocate trade and bring famine to the Philippines.

"The lesson of the recent European war," he said at that time, "has made us less optimistic."

Magda Lupescu Still Has Power

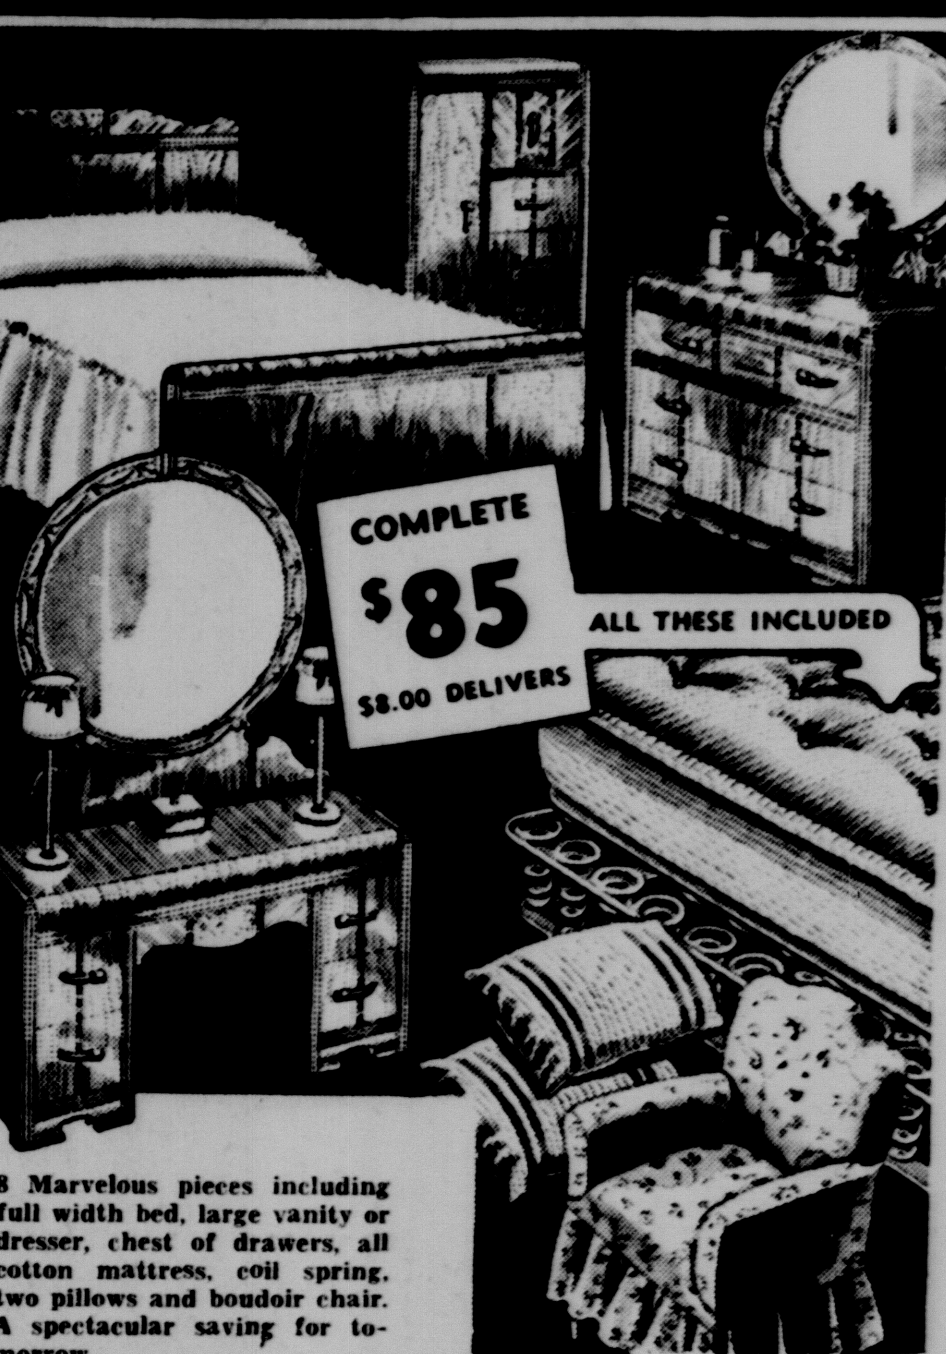

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 10.—The London Daily Express reported from Sofia today that Mme. Magda Lupescu, Romanian-born friend of King Carol of Rumania, suddenly has "returned to the Rumanian political stage."

According to reports from Bucharest, said the paper, Rumanian Peasant Party Leader Iulius Maniu refused to accept a government post as long as Mme. Lupescu remains in the Rumanian capital.

The dispatch said Maniu's "ultimatum" was rejected and that Mme. Lupescu, long under Iron Guardist fire because of her Jewish blood, is remaining at her Bucharest villa, guarded by 50 soldiers.

Being a snob is expensive, too. You can't appreciate the quality of anything unless it cost more than others can afford.

WIENER ROAST

Junior Girls' club of the Booker T. Washington Community Center had a wiener roast on Friday afternoon. Rosie Williams, Hazel Williams, Jean Moran, Bobbie Session and Paul Dandridge helped with wood for the fire.

Special guests were Mrs. Margaret Shepherd, Leroy Shepherd, Mrs. Lillian Clark, Clifford Clark and Sallie Williams.

The Center's recently constructed picnic table and benches were used at this event.

Park In Ward Is Attractive

Many Hours Of Work Are Devoted To Liberty Street Park Each Week

This year, one of the most beautiful of the city parks is the Liberty St. park, corner Darlington Ave. and North Liberty street, in the Seventh ward.

Many hours are put on the upkeep of this park each week by workmen under the supervision of city forester, Owen Penfield Fox.

The workmen weed the flower beds, keep the grass cut and trash gathered up, and keep the hedges pruned in first class shape.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Howard McLure, state dog law enforcement agent today stated that the training of dogs legally begins August 20 and stated: "Any unlicensed dog that enters any field or any dog that enters any field or enclosure where livestock or poultry are confined shall constitute a private nuisance, and the owner or servant, may, kill such dog, while it is in the field, without liability or responsibility of any nature for such killing. Licensed dogs, when accompanied by their owner or handler, shall not be included under the provisions of this section, unless caught in the act of worrying, wounding or killing any livestock, or wounding or killing poultry, or attacking human beings."

Two weeks of serious training were ahead today for Sammy Angott, NBA lightweight champion, and Fritz Ziv, Lawrenceville welterweight, as they prepared for their "crucial bout" at Forbes field on the 26th of this month, under the sponsorship of the Rooney-McGinley Boxing club. Angott started his preparations at Harry Dipple's Green Castle, on Evergreen road, while Ziv was scheduled to open headquarters at Ray Falck's Eagle's Rest camp.

Jack Trammell stopped Joe Horvath in the fourth round and Red Burman scored a technical knockout over Texas Jack Wofford, in the third round at Warren, O., last night. Jack Dempsey refereed the Trammell-Horvath bout and Matt Brock, third-manned the Wofford-Burman scrap. Howdy Mason kayode Steve Morgan, ex-amateur in the third and Ernie Peal beat Johnny Gunther in a four-rounder. Six thousand saw the fight.

Utility League Rest Of Season

Six Games Left On 1940 Second-Half Schedule, League Is One Of Best In City

Charles "Chuck" Usselson, acting for President Howard Warnock of the Utility softball league today announced the correct schedule for the league for the remainder of the season.

As far as can be ascertained the All-Stars was the first-half championship. The second-half race between the National Pants and Water Company for first place is very close and will be hard fought the rest of the way.

Six More Games

The schedule should be clipped by the managers so that they will know where their teams are playing.

Indies To Play West Pittsburgh

League Leaders May Run Into Trouble With "Gas House" Team Sunday Afternoon

ONLY FOUR GAMES CARDED FOR SUNDAY

The feature game on the City Baseball card for Sunday will be the league leading Lawrence Indies to the West Pittsburgh field to do battle with the strong "Gas House" team. The game will start at three o'clock (weather permitting).

Manager Danny DeGenova will use either Lefty Tovicic or Braky on the mound for West Pittsburgh and Manager George Zidow will use either Majocha or Savage. This should be a crackerjack of a game as their is a lot of friendly rivalry between the two teams. The Indies won in their last appearance at West Pittsburgh and the "Gas Houses" are after revenge.

St. Joseph's At Ryantown
The St. Joseph team will go to Ryantown to battle the Ryantown team and will use either Rev. P. Schirra or Dutch Hill on the knoll. The Ryantown will use Overy or Fisher.

The Croton team will play the West Side Tigers at Lee Avenue and will have either Stone and Orelli on the hill. The Tigers will use Faller. The Elders and Slovaks tangle at Hickory Heights Field. It will be Janoski or Balla for the Slovaks and Hartman or Frigione for the O'Leary managed Elders.

The Moose and Red Sox game at Lehigh has been postponed till Monday at Wash High field.

Protests Are Turned Down

The Board of Commissioners of the City baseball league held a meeting last night in the office of City Controller Sil Lockley and heard two protests from the city league teams.

The St. Josephs team had protested the Moose club 7 to 6 win at Lehigh Field on July 22 on the use of an illegal ball. The commissioners ruled that the game remain as played owing to the evidence submitted by concerned parties.

The Lawrence Indies protested the recent 3 to 1 win of the Red Sox over them at Washington High Field. The commissioners ruled that Umpire Bert Price was within his rights in calling the game on account of darkness and that the game remain as played a victory for the Red Sox.

GAME IS POSTPONED

The Moose and Red Sox game for Lehigh Field Sunday has been postponed until Monday and will be played at Washington High Field. Instead, it was announced by Manager Roger Molesworth of the Red Sox today. It will be a twilight game on Monday.

Bouncing his curve was always Thompson's weakness. When he won 20 for Pacuach in 1936, it was thought he might be ready.

Sports World Ramblings

A fitting tribute to a great personality... Five years ago today, Charles "Horse" Gillium answered the call from the Great Beyond. His sudden death left a vacancy in the sports coterie which has never been filled. We are indebted to an Erie reader who has forwarded an honest-to-goodness tribute in memory of one of the grandest human beings ever put on this earth.

The reader states: "Being a salesman, I occasionally visit your district. I have had access to your paper and have never yet seen the names of Charles 'Horse' Gillium, a fraternity brother of mine (Beta Theta Pi) at Syracuse university. Surely he helped to make your city known in the sports game, for he was popular wherever he went."

"He was a prince of a fellow if there ever was one. He was exceedingly popular among students and townspeople. Death cut short a career that had a brilliant future. Must his memory die in your little town where his name should always stand out whenever your 'yesteryear' greats are recalled?"

"That leads me to say that Saturday, August 10, will be the fifth anniversary of his death, he having died on Saturday, August 10, 1935. Couldn't you pay a little tribute to a chap whose very name stirs me with memories of a roguish smile, firm handclasp and true-blue friendship?"

"He must have been tops or 'Believe It or Not Ripley' wouldn't have seen fit to use his picture in the Ripley drawings. I'll be in the Youngstown area from August 7 to 12 inclusive, and I'll be reading your paper on those dates." Sincerely yours, an occasional reader.

As we typewrite the contributor's stirring tribute, we are gripped by an inexplicable feeling which brings back memories of one of the dearest and one of the most cherished friendships we have ever had. His 6 feet 7 inch frame represented 6 feet 7 inches of man. A well educated person, "Horse," as we know him, was always extending his efforts to help his fellow man. He worried more about his friends than he did about himself.

Gillium's athletic career started at New Castle High and continued at Grove City. Later, he entered Syracuse University. Following his collegiate days, Gillium, a talented basketball player, won a berth with the famous New York Celtics, during an era when the Celtics ranked as the greatest cage combination in the history of the game. He won national acclaim. He died in his thirties at a time when he should have started to enjoy life. May his soul rest in peace.

RADIATORS WIN IN LOOP BATTLE

Defeat Sons Of Italy 6 To 5 With Maggie Pitching, Valentinos Also Win

The National Rads defeated the Sons of Italy team last night at Rad field 6 to 5 with Roger Maggie and Greg Ross pitching a steady seven-hitter. The losing hurler was G. Santangelo Monday the Rads and Valentinos tangle at Hickory Heights Field.

The heavy hitters last night were: Fernatore, Hilton, Copple and Fornoni.

LAWRENCE INDIES

DEFEAT TIGERS 7-3

Those rampaging Lawrence Indies baseball team, leaders of the City baseball league second-half and also first-half winners went a step nearer the City league 1940 championship last night at Lee Avenue field by defeating West Side Tigers 7 to 3 behind the swell four-hit pitching of Russo.

The Indies combed Paul Morrison for 12 hits, including a homer by Hen Kozela, a double by Kozela, two doubles by Byak, Huck Davies was the feature hitter for the Tigers with a homer and double.

The Indies played fine ball and looked the part of champions. On Sunday the Indies will play at West Pittsburgh. The Indies have won 10 and lost but one in the second half.

Pirates Defeat Chicago Cubs 6-2

Rip Sewell Hurls Four-Hit Ball, Reds Down Cardinals, Dodgers Also Win

By ED KIELY
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The Cincinnati Reds can brag all they want about their classy pitching corps but they never will be able to convince Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers that any of their hurlers is better than his big right-hander, Whitlow Wyatt.

Yesterday Leo, The Lip, sent his ace against the Boston Bees, who lately have been going like champs, and big Whit promptly put a stop to the Bostonians four-game winning streak by setting them down, 1 to 0, on four hits and no runs.

After knowing the Dodgers were sticking close by their heels, the league-leading Reds went out and plastered the St. Louis Cardinals with a 7 to 2 defeat in a night game. Junior Thompson, who has been out of the lineup since he was spiked in a fight in Brooklyn, came back to bolster the faltering Reds by limiting the Red Birds to eight hits.

In another evening engagement, Manager Frank Frisch's fighting Pittsburgh Pirates nipped the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 2, and at the same time took over possession of fourth place in the National League.

Tut Sewell, the Buccaneers' mainstay of the mound, allowed the windy city team only four hits. New York and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

The second division clubs took their licks out of their first division brethren in night games in the American League.

Edgar Smith, Chicago White Sox southpaw, emulated the heroics of Wyatt by pitching and battling the Sox to a 3 to 2 triumph over the league-leading Detroit Tigers.

Indiana Defeated
Smith spelt out five hits and fanned eleven. In the ninth, he singled, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored the winning run on Mike Kreevich's two-bagger.

After being shutout for the first six innings, the St. Louis Browns put on a strong finish to score four runs in the last three innings and nose out the Cleveland Indians, 4 to 3. Walt Judnich homered in the eighth when the Browns tallied twice.

The New York Yankees handed the last place Philadelphia Athletics a 2 to 0 lacing. Steve Sundra and Red Ruffing combined efforts to hold the A's to two hits. Ruffing retired in the third inning with a pulled tendon in his leg.

The Washington Senators staged a two-run surge in the ninth to eke out a 6 to 5 verdict over the Boston Red Sox.

BESSEMER WINS OVER BRENT, 7-1

Bessemer scored a 7 to 1 win over Brent on the Bessemer field in a Lawrence County local game yesterday. Bessemer battered Bell and Johnson while Hardesty fanned nine coal miners. P. Nord and Vlah hit triples.

Kruck, Stewart Toss One Hitters

East Side Jolts South Side; Civics Surprise Pulaski In City-County Loop

Two one-hit performances and Pulaski's setback by the Union Civics highlighted City-County Independent Baseball league games played Friday.

At Nashua, Stewart twirled the West Side A. C. to a 5-0 margin over the strong Nashua nine. In limiting the losers to a single hit, Stewart permitted but one man to reach third base. In addition, Stewart cracked out a double. Bechtel also doubled for the winners.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
West Side 100 111 5-7
Nashua 000 000 0-0
Batteries—West Side, Stewart and Vlah; Nashua, Hill and Neal.

Umpires—Dubraski and B. Ratvasky.

CASTLEWOOD WINS 6-0
Kruck shot in a one-hitter as Castlewood whitewashed the Elders 6-0 at Castlewood.

Jay Newton was the hitting star, clubbing a homer with a mate on the sacks. Bob King caught the Castles. For the Elders, Stoltica tossed while Morella was in the backstop post.

BOARDS LOSE 8-5
South Side Board of Trade pennant hopes received a jolt at Centennial field where the East Side Redins emerged with an 8-5 triumph.

Ferry was loaded with stuff, yielding six hits and fanning 14 Boarders. Nick Cubic's offerings were lathered 10 hits.

Redskins 200 400 3-8
Batteries—South Side, Cubic and V. Ciccone; Redskins, Ferry and Grim.

HARBOR AHEAD 6-5
Behind the four-hit pitching of Woods, Harbor scored a 6-5 triumph over New Bedford.

To top it off, Woods won his own game, laying down a perfect bunt in the final frame. The bags were clogged at the time and the winning run came over. Ringbloom cashed in two hits while Schaa's contributed a double and a single. Morehouse slashed a triple for the losers.

UNIONS SPILL PULASKI
Union Civics provided one of the major upsets of the evening, pancaking the strong Pulaski outfit, National league pace setter, 3-2.

In the fourth, the Civics jammed the cushions and Patton walked in what proved to be the winning marker. Conti poked a three-base hit for the Civics. Biddle lofted a homer for Pulaski.

Conn And Pastor Battle Tuesday

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Billy Conn, the world light heavyweight champion, and Bob Pastor will conclude training over the week-end for a prize fight which, in some of its aspects, is one of the strangest struggles ever perpetrated within the so-called hempen strands. Briefly, two ordinary light heavyweights are about to tangle for the right to meet one of the greatest heavy-weight champions of all time. One or the other will get Joe Louis in September.

The forthcoming brawl, scheduled for 15 rounds at the Polo Grounds Tuesday night, will be a good fight for the simple fact that both Conn and Pastor are gamblers and clever fighters. But why either of them should be figured as a logical opponent for Louis might be perplexing but for the fact that Louis and his handlers and Promoter Mike Jacobs all want Louis in one more fight this year. There is nobody else around except the survivor of this engagement.

Promoter Jacobs and Louis' handlers must realize that neither Conn nor Pastor has the remotest chance of beating Louis. In fact, Pastor already has proved the point insofar as he is concerned in two fights with Louis. He lost one on a decision after out-running Louis for 10 rounds and he lost the other on a knockout in 11 rounds. Conn couldn't hope to do much better than get knocked out sooner or later by the champion.

The silliest think about this whole situation is the attempt to build Conn and Pastor into legitimate heavyweights. Conn has been stuffed and fattened to the bulging point between but invariably remains all off and steadily remains a light heavyweight.

As for Pastor, he is a 180-pounder tops and probably could make the light heavyweight limit too if pressed, except that there is more money to be found among the heavies than among the 175-pounders.

Nevertheless, the winner gets Louis—Gentle murder.

In the event Conn wins he will box Louis either here in New York or in his native Pittsburgh. If Pastor wins the bout probably will go to Washington. In either case Louis will score a knockout whenever he gets ready.

Silly? Don't mention it.

Beware America Warns Speaker

Many Rotary Representatives Hear Speech, Enjoy Golf Match

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 10.—"Beware of Communism" was the warning expressed by Earl A. Roger, Supt. of the Junior high school, Lewistown, and amateur play director, in his speech, "The American Way of Living" given before representatives of several Rotary clubs meeting at the Ellwood City Country Club last evening.

Mr. Roger, who was introduced by J. J. Hogan, president of the Zellenople Rotary, went on to say, "Today, in this country, we are too reticent. We must have more humanism such as Lincoln had. 'Youth,' he challenged, 'does not have stability. They want to live the easy way on an easy plane.' At the conclusion of his inspiring talk he remarked, 'To make America right we must put into it everything we have.'

Chairman of the evening's events was Mr. Rhinesmith, Zellenople editor. About 75 were present for this part of the program. Representatives from the Butler, Slippery Rock, New Castle, Beaver Falls, Rochester, Wampum, Evans City, Zellenople and Ellwood City Rotaries were present for the golf match in the afternoon also.

Prizes for the golf match were awarded to the following:
Closest to the cup on the No. 9 green, C. L. Hamm, Rochester.

Low gross score, Burton R. Colwell, New Castle.

Most balls in lake, "Dutch" Schoeffel, Evans City.

High score, James Hazen, Zellenople.

Low net score, O. J. Binford, Butler. Ray Nesbitt, Butler, Jan Duff, Zellenople.

Fewest Putts, Dr. Sorgen, Butler. Most Drives, Charles Morrow, Butler.

Kicker's handicap, O. J. Binford, Butler, Dr. Sorgen, Butler, Walter Kennedy, Zellenople.

Next Thursday the Rotary and Rotarians will be conducted on an expedition through the Isaly plant in Youngstown.

Frisco Girl Weds Charles E. Turner

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 10.—Miss Hazel Stephenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stephenson of Frisco, was married to Charles E. Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner, 316 Fourth street.

The ceremony was performed at Wellsburg, W. Va., on August 9, at 9:30 a. m. in the presence of Baptist Minister William Frayer. The single ring ritual was used.

The bride was lovely in a white silk dress with blue accessories, wearing a corsage of red rose-buds.

The maid of honor, Miss Eleanor Drago, Beaver Falls, wore a black dress with white accessories with a corsage of white roses. DuWayne Jessop of Burnstown was the best man.

After the quiet ceremony the couple went to the bridegroom's home for a wedding dinner. They will reside for a time at the Turner residence.

The bridegroom is employed at the Charles Turner barber shop on Lawrence avenue. Both attended the Lincoln high school. Mr. Turner graduated with the class of '38.

This Girl Wants A Fighting Man

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Gladys went on record today as definitely in favor of compulsory military service, and so advised Fred in no uncertain terms.

A "personal" in the classified advertising section of a Chicago newspaper yesterday read:

"Gladys: conscription passes—you lost me for a yr. prot. to your senator now. "Fred."

Gladys' answer appearing today read:

"Red: Are you a man or mouse? A country worth living in is worth fighting for. Don't be a panty waist."

"Gladys."

Which apparently left it up to Fred and congress.

Stock Market Continues Rise

Strength Shown In General Motors, Allied Chemical Also Higher

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The stock market moved up further today in a continuation of yesterday's advance.

Strength in General Motors, which was in persistent demand at new highs for the current move, and new gains in blue chips were outstanding. Advances ran to more than 2 1/2 points.

General Motors advanced a point after yesterday's gain. Its upturn aided the rest of the auto list, Chrysler regaining an early drop of nearly a point.

Allied Chemical ran up over 2 points more on top of yesterday's 4-point spurt. Johns Manville, Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak, International Paper preferred, Great Northern preferred, Sears Roebuck and Briggs each rose a point or more.

Steel shares opened mixed, with Bethlehem lower, but improved later. Coppers were inclined to edge forward. Most aviation improved but American Air Lines was backward.

Western Union strengthened in response to its earnings recovery.

Utilities were very narrow. Grains were fractionally lower. Cotton was mixed. Bonds were dull. Foreign exchanges were easier.

"Blitzkrieg Chop"

A few of Uncle Sam's young privates taking part in the war games at Ogdensburg, N. Y., are seen at the camp's barber shop getting the latest in army haircuts. The boys call it the "blitzkrieg chop."

COOLING OFF A HOT DOG

Something new in canine comfort as seen by the cameraman in Geneva, Switzerland. The dog is equipped with a special parasol which will keep the hot sun off him.

Inspecting Damage Caused by R.A.F. Dud

C. P. Radiophoto

Curious citizens of Hamburg, Germany, inspect a hole made in the street by what the Nazi censor describes as a dud bomb dropped during an R.A.F. raid. The censor declares this photo refutes the British claim that extensive damage has been inflicted on the city. Photo flashed by radio from Berlin to New York.

ROOSEVELTS HOSTS TO LATIN AMERICAN WIVES

PAULINE REVERE REACHES CAPITAL

Arriving at the national capital from Chicago, "Miss Pauline Revere" presents Senator Rush Holt of West Virginia with a scroll opposing the compulsory military training bill. "Miss Revere"—who is really Miss Elaine Summers of the state of Washington—made the long trip as an expression against the draft bill.

Another for U. S.

The 492-foot S. S. President Monroe slides down the ways at Newport News, Va., ready to join the U. S. merchant marine fleet. She will make world cruises when the European hostilities cease.

Hitler Scares Him

This British soldier gets a hearty chuckle out of a leaflet dropped by a German bomber, containing a translation of Hitler's Reichstag address in which he made "a last appeal to reason" before sending his aerial fleets to destroy Britain. Similar leaflets were dropped on many towns throughout England. (Central Press)

Old Time Relics Displayed For Old Timers Day

Many Fine Exhibits Have Been Arranged By Merchants Of City With Antiques

PITTSBURGHERS ARE COOPERATING

Many of the merchants of the city are cooperating with the Old Timers Day committee in arranging displays of antique household and farm articles, clothing and furnishings which bring back memories of the days of yesteryear to these old folks who are nearing the end of life's journey.

The committee has no means of going out and gathering up these articles, but will be very glad to arrange for their display if they are brought to the various stores designated. Many local residents have some splendid old relics of the past, which are of interest to all, and if they will bring them to the designated stores, the committee will see that they are properly displayed.

Cooperation this year is being extended by the New Castle club of Pittsburgh, who have sent notices to all their members advising them of the annual gathering and urging them to attend. This is expected to bring a large attendance from the Smoky City and its immediate vicinity.

Leo Griffith, President of the club, Andrew B. Berger vice president, Malcolm F. McConnell vice president, Walter Wilkinson treasurer and Dr. Murray McCaslin secretary.

As announced previously, it is planned to honor all couples who have observed their 50th wedding anniversary, and they will be given places of honor in the grand march. They are asked to notify the registration and reception committees of this fact on their arrival at the pavilion and they will be given their place of honor by the committee.

An effort is being made to have all school teachers who have taught here for 50 years, or who taught in the schools 50 years or more ago, attend the reunion this year.

Plans for the reunion, which will take place at Cascade park Wednesday, August 14, are shaping up nicely. President Fred B. Sankey stated today, and this year's attendance is expected to eclipse that of the past few years, which have been very successful.

Folks wishing to go to the park early, have their lunch in the grove, and assemble at the pavilion early, may do so, arrangements having been made to reserve tables for the Old Timers in the grove. There are checking facilities for baskets, so that folks need not be bothered with carrying them around the park with them, it is stated.

Stores which are cooperating with the display for Old Timers Day include Butz Brothers in the main business section, Dave Lewis, William Druschel, Klamar Dry Goods store, Shaffer & Snyder, A. Fisher, Bright & Clark, Harry Druschel and Smith's Drug store.

It is expected that there will be others in the up-town section who will also contribute window space.

Garden Forum Outing Monday

Lawrence County Garden Forum will have an outing Monday evening at 6 o'clock, at Gaston Park.

A hike under the leadership of Professor Charles Lindner will be held first on the program, followed by a steak fry.

A transcript of appeal has been filed in the Prothonotary's office from the docket of Alderman Wallace J. Ewing of the Second Ward, in the suit of Wyatt R. Campbell vs. Philip Winnick, in which judgment was entered in favor of the former in the sum of $140.

A libel in divorce has been filed by Edith Rodgers by her guardian, Elizabeth Hartschner against Walter Rodgers, charging cruel and barbarous treatment and desertion. The couple was married April 1, 1939 at New Castle, and resided at East Brook, Pine street, and R. F. D. No. 1, Wampum. The present address of the libellant is given as Catherine street, R. F. D. No. 3, and the respondent, Fresno, Calif.

A decree of divorce was handed down Friday by Judge W. Walter Braham, granting the petition of Vilena Elizabeth English to be divorced from her husband Thomas English. A hearing in the case was held earlier in the week, the grounds being desertion.

Friday was desertion and non-support day in court, Judge Thomas W. Dickey hearing cases in the jury room, while Judge Braham presided in Court Room No. 1. Naturalization hearings were being held in Court Room No. 2. Probation officer, Jack M. Dunlap was kept extremely busy keeping the cases moving into the various rooms.

Naturalization hearings, which have been in progress before three examiners from the Pittsburgh Division office of Immigration and Naturalization were conducted Friday afternoon, with around 300 applicants being examined. The examinations were conducted by Carl W. Starlinger, Harry Gould, and Walter J. Coughlin. Those who are prepared will be given certificates of citizenship at the final hearings in November.

A motion for arrest of judgement and for a new trial in the case of the Commonwealth vs. John Sikora, alias John Chicora, of Pulaski township, charged with receiving stolen goods, was argued before the court en banc, and an opinion and order of court was handed down by the court Friday refusing the motion.

The defendant lives on a farm near New Bedford. Living in his home was a boarder, Nelson Sarahs, who with John Miller, were found guilty of stealing chickens, calves and other stock and hiding them in the barn of Sikora. The defendant argued that he did not know that the property was stolen, but evidence introduced was introduced to the contrary. He will be sentenced later.

County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer has compiled figures showing receipts during July, and the condition of the county treasury as of August 1.

Collections during July were as follows:

General Fund	$186,235.87
School and Road	59,738.58
State	4,545.99
Poor	64,055.60
Gasoline	175.00

The condition of the treasury on August 1, was as follows:

General Fund	$433,613.06
Institutional Fund	231,388.04
Gasoline	44,893.30
Road and School	78,033.83
Tax Lien Account	422.00

Money being held in the road and school fund will soon be paid out to the districts entitled to receive it.

County Controller Frank W. Hill has returned from Harrisburg where he represented the Pennsylvania State Controllers Association, of which he is secretary, at a conference conducted by the Joint Governmental Commission and the Local Governmental Commission relative to the drafting of legislation pertaining to county affairs.

Motions and petitions will be heard at a session of court on Monday which will start at 10 o'clock.

The memory of George W. Muse and William K. Huges, veteran members of the Lawrence County Bar Association, who passed away during the year, was recalled at memorial services conducted in Court Room No. 1, Friday afternoon, with Judges W. Walter Braham and Thomas W. Dickey presiding.

Attorney William J. Caldwell, a law partner of Mr. Huges for a number of years delivered the eulogy for Mr. Huges, while Attorney Roy M. Jamison, who was a former partner of Mr. Muse's many years ago, gave the eulogy for the latter.

The service was a most impressive one, befitting the dignity of the profession and was largely attended by members of the bar and county officials who knew the two men intimately during their lifetime.

Strike Menaces Airplane Output

Slowdown Strike In Bendix
Factory Stops Shipment
Of Plane Carburetors

(International News Service)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 10.—An attempt to settle a "slow-down" strike which, if continued, "will put a crimp on all airplane production in the United States," will be made today at a conference between union officials, Federal Labor Conciliator James F. Dewey, and executives of the Bendix Aviation Company plant in South Bend.

The slow-down was called in the carburetor factory, where 80 percent of all carburetors for the nation's aircraft industry are manufactured.

Seriousness of the situation was emphasized by a Bendix spokesman, who revealed that shipment of carburetors has already stopped and several plane manufacturers have been affected.

Crimp Production

Unless the strike is settled quickly, the Bendix spokesman said, it "will put a crimp on all airplane production and seriously interfere with the national defense program."

Possibility the strike may spread through the entire Bendix organization, involving approximately 4000 workers, was reported today.

Dewey, who rushed here from Detroit, announced a conference will be held at nine o'clock this morning. In attendance will be Dewey, Richard Frankenstein and Richard Leonard, regional directors of the C.I.O. United Automobile Workers, a committee from the U.A.W. local, and Bendix officials.

The slow-down resulted, it was said, from union objections to employment of seven supervisors or foremen, from outside the plant, the union contending the foremen should be selected from the employee seniority list.
